

Organization of the Month

January 2007

Jakoter Health Organizers

Jakoter's mission is to help you through your medical journey. We found by organizing the details of your medical journeys you can become a better advocate for yourself and your loved ones.

Through our son's journey we found out how necessary and empowering organization is. When we had all of the pertinent information at hand we became his best advocate. We were better able to decide in his care and take quicker steps to seeing that everything necessary could get completed. This was a great help for us and we would like for others to be able to feel the same comfort without struggling to put it all together.

Our goal is to create products to organize your health to make you the best advocate that you can be. Our mission is to help you through your medical journey.

We wish everyone the best of health and happiness!

Jakoter stand for Jake, Dakota and Hunter our boys.
